

WORKSHOP FOR BACHELOR AND MASTER STUDENTS

Economic Implications of Aging Populations on Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) - Perspectives from the Netherlands and Japan

Date: Friday, 30th August

Time: 9:00 - 13:00

Venue: NU-02A65

Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam

Attendees:

- Bachelor and Master Students
- Faculty Members from: Meijo University (Japan), VU Amsterdam, and Leiden University (NL)
- Industry experts

Join workshop and Group Discussions
(Use the QR Code Below to Register):

10:30 - 10:45 Group 1:

"The Interplay Between Economic Growth, Aging, and SDGs: Opportunities and Challenges", followed by a Q&A session

10:45 - 11:00 Group 2:

"Innovative Solutions for Addressing Aging Challenges", followed by a Q&A session

11:00 - 11:15 Group 3:

"Policy Frameworks for Promoting Sustainable Development in the Face of Aging Societies", followed by a Q&A session

11:15 - 11:30 Group 4:

"Integrating Dutch and Japanese Perspectives on Aging and SDGs and Solutions", followed by a Q&A session

SCAN ME

G.KAUR@VU.NL

WORKSHOP FOR BACHELOR AND MASTER STUDENTS

Economic Implications of Aging Populations on Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) - Perspectives from the Netherlands and Japan

AGENDA

9:00–9:30: Guided campus tour of VU Amsterdam for all participants

9:30–9:45: Welcome and Opening Remarks

- Welcome by the International Office of VU Amsterdam
- Opening remarks by Professor Theo Kocken, Full Professor, School of Business and Economics, Finance, and Chairman of Cardano Development.

9:45–09:55: Introduction to the Film "Your 100-year Life" and Presentation by Professor Theo Kocken on the Dutch perspectives on Economic Implications of Aging Populations on Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)

9:55–10:05: Presentation by Professor Yuri Sadoi on Japanese perspectives on Economic Implications of Aging Populations on Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)

10:05–10:15: Discussion on the economic implications of aging populations and retirement systems worldwide, based on the themes presented in the documentary.

10:15–10:30: Coffee Break and Networking Opportunity

10:30–11:30: Group Discussions among Students:

Group 1 (10:30–10:45): "The Interplay Between Economic Growth, Aging, and SDGs: Opportunities and Challenges", followed by a Q&A session

Group 2 (10:45–11:00): "Innovative Solutions for Addressing Aging Challenges", followed by a Q&A session

Group 3 (11:00 - 11:15): "Policy Frameworks for Promoting Sustainable Development in the Face of Aging Societies", followed by a Q&A session

Group 4 (11:15 - 11:30): "Integrating Dutch and Japanese Perspectives on Aging and SDGs and Solutions", followed by a Q&A session

11:30–11:45: Panel Discussion

- Panel discussion with representatives from Meijo University (2 professors), Leiden University, VU Amsterdam (1 Professor), and Industry Experts, focusing on integrating Dutch and Japanese perspectives on aging and SDGs

11:45–12:00: Q&A Session

12:00 - 12:05: Closing remarks by Professor Shino Ota from Meijo University

12:05 - onwards: Networking lunch and opportunity for further discussions and interactions between participants.

WORKSHOP FOR BACHELOR AND MASTER STUDENTS

Economic Implications of Aging Populations on Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) - Perspectives from the Netherlands and Japan

CAMPUS MAP

